7th Annual Birdies for Kids Fundrasier

from Arizona State in May 2011 with a degree in Professional Golf Management.

Justin enjoys playing golf, listening to music, and hanging out with his friends and family. He is also a big Phoenix Suns fan.

After he graduates, Justin hopes to become the Director of Golf or a Head Pro at a prestigious golf course. This will be his 3rd golf internship and he is looking forward to gaining experience in the tournament operations part of the industry.

Unique Fund Raising Opportunity for Kids

The NTPGA is excited to let you know about a unique fundraiser that kids can be a part of called Birdies for Kids. The fundraiser was started in 2004 by seven Australians who work in the golf industry in the Dallas area. In just six years the fundraiser has raised $727,583.97 for local children's charities. This year, all proceeds will benefit the Northern Texas PGA Junior Golf Foundations' Golf in Schools Program and also the Heart Center at Children's Medical Center.

Over the past three summers, junior golfers just like you have become "honorary Aussies" for the summer and have raised $69,391.00 for kid's charities. We need your help again this year to help raise money for the kids! We are asking all current and former NTPGA Junior Golf Foundation members to become "honorary Aussies" for the summer. Kids that participate will win great prizes from Titleist and one lucky person will even win a trip for two to Australia!

For more information, please visit www.birdiesforkids.org. Click on the "Kids Helping Kids" link. Here you will find everything you need to know to start fund raising. Every dollar helps!

Thank You to

Children's Medical Center Health & Safety Tip of the Week

DEHYDRATION

Golfers are at risk of dehydration if they don't get enough fluid to replace what is lost through the skin as sweat and through the lungs while breathing. It is important to drink plenty of fluids before, during and after a round of golf. An athlete's performance can be impacted by even mild dehydration. Athletes should take a water bottle to school and drink between classes and during breaks so that they are well-hydrated before their workout.

In addition:

- Water should be readily available when practicing.
- Athletes should drink often - ideally every 15 to 30 minutes.

- Sports drinks are recommended for activities lasting longer than one hour.

For more information on golf safety, please check out Children's Medical Center.
